Do energy storage tolling agreements restrict a developer's use of a battery?

As the energy stored in the battery belongs to the buyer, energy storage tolling agreements will often prohibit or restrict the developer's use of the storage system for station service. The inclusion of this condition requires that the developer enters into a retail service contract for the system's non-storage load.

What is an energy storage tolling agreement?

Under an energy storage tolling agreement, the developer of the energy storage system is responsible for obtaining site control, permits, interconnection rights, equipment, and construction contracts, as well as achieving agreed-upon milestones such as a target commercial operation date and a guaranteed commercial operation date.

What is an example of a round-trip energy storage tolling agreement?

For example, "round-trip efficiency" is analogous to "heat rate", and "availability" generally pertains to the same function under both types of agreement. In an energy storage tolling agreement, there are a number of potential payments and measures of performance. Some of these variables include:

What is a power purchase tolling agreement?

A tolling agreement is a contract which allows for the rental of a power plant from its owners. Tolling agreements give the renter the ability to convert one physical commodity (fuel/gas) into another commodity (electricity).
