How much does a carbon fiber EDC knife cost?

And the fact that you can get one with a shredded carbon fiber handle for under $40 is pretty jaw-dropping. If your budget is seriously restricted but you still desperately want a carbon fiber EDC knife, you can't go wrong with this one.

Is carbon fiber a good knifemaking material?

For starters, carbon fiber is around five times stronger than steel and twice as stiff. It's also about five times lighter. These two factors alone are reason enough to be interested in it as an EDC knifemaking material. But it also benefits from a unique appearance in any of its constituent forms.
