

Mobile container energy storage solution

What is a containerized battery energy storage system?

Containerized Battery Energy Storage Systems (BESS) are essentially large batteries housed within storage containers. These systems are designed to store energy from renewable sources or the grid and release it when required. This setup offers a modular and scalable solution to energy storage.

What is a mobile energy storage system?

On the construction site, there is no grid power, and the mobile energy storage is used for power supply. During a power outage, stored electricity can be used to continue operations without interruptions. Maximum safety utilizing the safe type of LFP battery (LiFePO₄) combined with an intelligent 3-level battery management system (BMS);

Are energy storage containers a viable alternative to traditional energy solutions?

These energy storage containers often lower capital costs and operational expenses, making them a viable economic alternative to traditional energy solutions. The modular nature of containerized systems often results in lower installation and maintenance costs compared to traditional setups.

How can a mobile energy storage system help a construction site?

Integrate solar, storage, and charging stations to provide more green and low-carbon energy. On the construction site, there is no grid power, and the mobile energy storage is used for power supply. During a power outage, stored electricity can be used to continue operations without interruptions.

What is a microgreen containerized energy storage solution?

The core technology used in Microgreen containerized energy storage solutions are top quality Lithium Ferrous Phosphate (LFP) cells from CATL. CATL's 280Ah LiFePO₄ (LFP) cell is the safest and most stable chemistry among all types of lithium ion batteries, while achieving 6,000 charging cycles or more. CATL serves global automotive OEMs.
